HOW DOES IT BENEFIT YOU AS A CURRENT PLAYER

If you are under contract with an annual salary that is lower than $45,990 (or $37,129.26 if you are under 21), you shall receive an automatic increase to your minimum annual salary from the start date explained below.

START DATES

The start date for the increase in minimum annual salary is 1 April 2010. This means you will receive back pay if the club did not pay you at the higher rate from that date.

If you were already under contract before the CBA started, you and the Club are required to sign a letter in the form agreed by FFA and the PFA that sets out the new minimum wage rates.

PLAYERS TURNING 21

If you turn 21 during the course of your current contract, you will automatically earn a minimum salary of $45,990 per annum from the date of your 21st birthday.
